

Political Science building @ AMU Morasko Campus: Venue of PLM2018

Access by public transport

Tram lines no. 12, 14, 15 and 16 will take you from the city centre to the os. Sobieskiego tram terminus, marked on the map above. Journey time from central Poznań is generally less than 20 minutes. After getting off the tram, cross the street, and turn left. You will reach a level railway crossing after 100 metres. Cross the railway line and continue along the bike and foot path (see map) for 600 metres. The Political Science and Journalism building is the second one you reach within the AMU Morasko Campus.

For travel to the party/dinner at Brovaria from the campus, use line 16 and get off at plac Wielkopolski.

Public transport tickets can be bought at the tram terminus and adjacent bus station, both from staffed points of sale and ticket machines. There are ticket machines at some stops in the city centre. These accept coins and banknotes as well as major credit cards. Selected trams have ticket machines on board, as marked on the tram doors. You can also buy tickets at some newsagent “kiosks”.

For each ride to the campus, you will need a 4.60 PLN paper ticket valid for 40 minutes. (A 10-minute paper ticket that can be usable within the city centre is 3.00 PLN.) These paper tickets need to be “cancelled” (i.e. stamped/validated) in dedicated yellow (not orange) machines immediately upon boarding your tram. To save some hassle, you can use a 72-hour ticket priced at 27.00 PLN that needs to be cancelled only once.

Generally reliable journey planning is available from Google Maps, and at <http://poznan.jakdojade.pl/>. Jakdojade offers a web application and mobile apps for all operating systems.

Access by car/taxi

From the city centre, drive about 7 km north from along Mieszka I and Szeligowskiego streets. In front of a Tesco supermarket (see map), turn right onto Opieńskiego, then left onto Umultowska, and finally left-then-right-then-left onto the Campus. Journey time from central Poznań is about 25+ minutes in good traffic conditions. Note that there is a level railway crossing on Umultowska which can cause delays if closed.
