

Programme
Full-time studies: English Philology
Specialization: Language and Communication in the Media and Politics
as of 2013/2014

Full time M.A. studies with specialization in Language and Communication in the Media and Politics last 4 semesters. The plan of the studies provides for courses in the form of lectures, classes, tutorials and seminars. The programme of studies includes obligatory courses, supplementary courses and elective courses. After having chosen a course, the student is obliged to get a credit for it. Apart from the courses listed in the programme of the studies, each AMU student has to get a credit for the course on health and safety at work as well as the course of Information and Resource Education (courses run in the form of e-learning).

Upon graduation the student obtains 120 ECTS credits (60 ECTS credits for an academic year). The name of qualification and the title conferred to graduates is that of magister (master's degree).

Details on the number of hours, type of the course, type of credit requirement and number of ECTS credits can be found in the course grids below. In order to get a credit for any course a grade must be awarded.
