INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

The Socrates/Erasmus program offers international exchanges with the following institutions:

Aveiro (Portugal), Bielefeld, Bamberg, Mannheim and Munich (Germany), Trieste (Italy), Tromsø and Kristiansand (Norway), Murcia and Vigo (Spain), Helsinki (Finland), Vienna and Klagenfurt (Austria), Paris (France), Bacau (Romania), Limerick (Ireland), Brussels and Ghent (Belgium, for Dutch Philology), Leiden (Holland, for Dutch Philology).

The faculty of the School of English can do research in institutions in Leeds, Colchester, Lancaster and Lampeter (United Kingdom), Enumm (Turkey) and Augsburg (Germany), or choose the CEEPUS exchange program with Central and Eastern European institutions.

RESEARCH AND EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES:

- State-of-the-art library with the largest English book collection in Poland
- Well-equipped computer and language labs facilitating both the perfection of language skills and the performance of linguistic research
- Moodle E-learning platform
- Centre for Speech and Language Processing
- Numerous School of English Students’ Circles giving floor to academic debates and enabling students to develop their research interests during their undergraduate years

The AMU School of English is located in the centre of Poznań, in Collegium Novum. It is conveniently situated close to cultural and arts centers (“Zamek” Culture Centre, museums, galleries), bus and train stations, shopping centers (Stary Browar, Kupiec Poznański), numerous cafés, clubs, cinemas, theatres as well as the main university building (Collegium Minus) and the University Concert Hall.

instytut Filologii Angielskiej
Uniwersytet im. Adama Mickiewicza
al. Niepodległości 4
61-874 Poznań, Poland
+48 61 829 3506, +48 61 829 3521
fax: +48 61 852 3103

ENGLISH PHILOLOGY
DUTCH PHILOLOGY
The Adam Mickiewicz University School of English is the largest centre of English studies in Poland and across Europe. It boasts a long history, has extensive experience in teaching and is recognized for its numerous research achievements in Poland and abroad.

Full-time program (daytime)
Specializations in English Philology and Dutch Philology offer:
- Bachelor’s Degree Studies (3 years)
- Master’s Degree Studies (2 years)
- PhD Studies (4 years)

Part-time studies (extramural)
English Philology
- Bachelor’s Degree Studies (3 years)
- Master’s Degree Studies (2.5 years)
Dutch Philology
- Master’s Degree Studies (2 years)

English Philology and Dutch Philology
- PhD studies (4 years)
- Post-graduate studies (one-year or half-year long)

Enrolment: up-to-date information concerning enrolment can be obtained at www.ifa.amu.edu.pl

---

ENGLISH PHILOLOGY

Full-time program (daytime)
BA Studies – specializations:
- Basic curriculum
- Teaching program
- South-African studies
- Celtic studies

MA studies – specializations:
- Basic curriculum
- Celtic studies
- Conference interpreting program
- History and civilization of English-speaking countries (joint programme with the AMU Institute of History)
- Language and communication in the media and politics
- Anglo-American philosophy and literature (joint programme with the AMU Institute of Philosophy)

Part-time program (extramural)
BA and MA studies – specializations:
Basic curriculum

Courses:
- Practical English courses (British and American)
- Linguistics
- History of English and American literature
- Literary studies
- History of England and the USA
- British and American life and institutions

DUTCH PHILOLOGY

Full-time BA and MA culture-oriented studies

Courses:
- Practical Dutch courses
- Linguistics
- Literary studies and history of literature
- Cultural studies
- History of the Netherlands

POST-GRADUATE STUDIES

- EFL Teacher Training Studies
- Community Interpreting
- Audiovisual Interpreting

PHD PROGRAM

The PhD program at the School of English offers not only supervised scientific research in a selected area, but also a range of classes, seminars and lectures in the following subjects:

- Methodology of the human sciences
- Linguistics
- Literary studies
- Cultural studies
- Statistics